

Aftercare for Halo Gel Polish

Now you have your beautiful gel polish you want to get the best from it by following our aftercare advice below.

01 Always wear gloves when doing any house hold chores.

02 Apply cuticle oil as directed by your nail tech this will promote healthy nail growth.

03 Never file the free edge of your nails once the gel polish has been applied. This will cause the seal to break and water or oil can get in between your nail and the gel causing it to bubble and peel away from the nail. Moisture can also get trapped in there creating a little nail bogey (greenie).

04 Always get your gels properly removed by your nail tech. Picking and pulling or badly removed gels can cause your own nail damage.
(We can also tell when you have been picking at them)

05 Making sure you follow your nail techs advice for regular appointments to maintain your gel polish will always mean you're getting the best from the service. Leaving the gel polish on too long will create your nail to become unbalanced / top heavy. So when you catch them there is more chance of a breakage or splitting your nail.

06 Always remember "Your nails are jewels not tools" Do not use them for opening cans or scrapping things off with them. This will also create damage to the nail or help the polish to become separated from the nail.
